Starting with an 8 hour stop over at the impressive new Bangkok International Airport our tour of Malaysia began on the 8th of January, 2006. A city tour showing the beautiful mosques, art and architecture of the capital city of Kuala Lumpur was followed the next day with a tour of the Hindu Temples at Batu Caves after a spectacular visit to the sky bridge on the Petronas Twin Towers. The final destination for the second day was the Genting Highlands resort where the group stayed overnight and enjoyed the amusements to their heart's fill. The return journey was via the new planned capital of Putrajaya and all enjoyed the picnic on the deep blue waters of the Straits of Malacca at the colonial Port Dickson.
